

BOCELLI FAMILY WINES

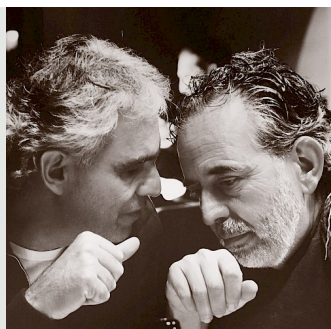

In Canto 2008

Andrea Bocelli's family has been making wine since the 18th century. As a child, little Andrea, who, yes, was blind at the time, actually worked in the vineyard. I see Andrea singing Verdi into the Tuscan night, then sipping In Canto and shaking his head, knowing the wine needs to age in its French oak cask a few months longer before it can match the richness and complexity of his voice.
